The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-3 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In particular, the applicant has added language to all of the independent claims that requires the pump to have a substantially constant output. The examiner has carefully reviewed the specification and cannot find language in the specification that specifically states that this is the case. In fact, the specification, (last page) implies that the output of the pump might be monitored in order to determine its output.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2, 5-7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morikawa in view of Minagawa. Morikawa and Minagawa apply as per the last office action.

Claims 3 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morifawa and Minagawa as applied to claim1 above, and further in view of Gaskins.

Gaskins applies as per the last office action.

Applicant's arguments filed 11/02/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In particular, the rejection under 35 USC 101 is, of course, self-explanatory, and the continued rejection under the art used in the last office action stems from the fact that the examiner cannot give weight to the new limitations of the independent claims. Thus, the art continues to apply as it did before the new limitations were added.
